HEAVY SELLERS
ON SHORT SIDEProfessionals Take Advantage of Conditions to Cover Extensive Short Interests.

SECURITIES UNINTERESTING

AT PRESENT.

New York, Sept. 30.—The movement in prices in the stock market today was regarded as due rather to the adjustment of speculative contracts among professional operators than to any new view of the conditions. The professionals were heavy sellers on the short side last week and they took advantage of the outside selling strength over the week end to cover extensive short interests today. The selling induced by last week's sharp decline was most pronounced today on London's account. From the lower level of prices at the start there was a brisk recovery from about 100 to 110 for a time, but with a reduction of the short interest and the satisfaction of demand from that source the market came back into a mood of uncertainty and of irregular fluctuations. The money market reflected the preparations for the October settlements as is usually the case on the last day of the month, but the strain was so far short of stringency that the effect was rather to increase the disposition of the shorts to cover.

Call money did not get above 6 per cent. The later dullness of the stock market was due in part to the postponement beyond the expected hour of the delivery of the presidential speech at Canton, making its publication until after the day's session of the stock market was over. There was some revision of last week's estimates showing the substance of this address would be, but this was accompanied by suggestions that the presidential address from which disturbance of financial sentiment dreaded might be looked for in later addresses. Underlying the present situation is the general conviction that a period of abstention from speculative activity is essential to the safe working of the needs of the market. The world demand for securities which is one consequence of this abstention opens the way for bear attack. Hopeful views are reported among the ranks of bankers and in other ranks of capital nevertheless.

The October dividend and interest payments, according to the estimates of the Journal of Commerce, will amount to $160,000,000, which is the largest ever made for this period of the year, notwithstanding reductions in dividends in some companies, notably the coppers, and readjustment of dividend proceeds by some of the large railroad companies which would also affect the comparison. To meet these large disbursements there are large accumulations of cash in the treasury, and the money market, but redempt of these funds will bring them back to the money market. The availability of this large sum has had little reflection in the immediate reinvestment demand for securities in the New York securities market, but it means replenishment of the capital fund nevertheless. This fund finds greater attraction yet in the money market and in more direct forms of lending. Assertions from railroad officials of the sustained volume of their traffic and especially of the great grain movement were features of the weekly interviews from that source. Copper weakened in London, but no change was announced here.

The punishment administered to the operators in Canadian Pacific was illustrated in a 12-point rise in that stock and the disposition of bears to cover elsewhere was emphasized. Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $1,306,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.
New York, Sept. 30.—Heavy realizing sales caused a weak wheat market here today. The December delivery closed at a net loss of 1/4c. Corn was down 3/4c. Oats were 1/4c lower. Provisions were 2 1/2c lower.
The wheat market was fairly firm during the first half hour, because of an advance of 3d at Liverpool. Traders, however, were bearishly inclined because of liberal shipments from Russia and lower prices at Minneapolis. Toward the end of the first half hour the selling became more aggressive, because of the weakness of the western part of Canada. The freer offerings soon caused a decline of 1/4c from the high point of the session. The market continued weak for the remainder of the day and closed in that condition. December opened 1/4c lower, 1/4c higher, 3/4c lower, sold off to 7 1/2c and closed at 8 1/2c. A break of more than 3c per bushel in the price of September corn, caused by realizing sales, caused weakness in all other deliveries. The market closed weak. December opened a shade to 1/4c lower at 5 1/4c, sold up to 5 1/2c and then declined to 5 1/4c. The close was at 5 1/4c. Local receipts were 1,000 cars, with 480 of contract grade.

The feature of trading in oats was a sharp advance in the September delivery, caused by the active covering by shorts. December opened from a shade to 1/4c at 54-52 1/2c, sold between 54c and 52 1/2c and closed at 52c. Local receipts were 58 cars.
Provisions were firm early in the day because of a 10c advance in the price of hogs. Later the market weakened in sympathy with corn. At the close January pork was down 1/2c at 15 1/2c. Lard was off 1/4c at 8 1/2c. Ribs were off 1/4c at 7 1/2c.
Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 144 cars; corn, 550 cars; oats, 210 cars; hogs, 22,000 head.

To the Public, Notice—

On account of sickness I am forced to retire from business, so I have engaged Mr. C. E. Osterloh to dispose of my entire stock of unredeemed pledges at auction. The stock consists of over $20,000 worth of Watches, Diamonds, Jewelry, Musical Instruments and a general stock of merchandise usually found in a place of this kind. Having been in business here for over twenty years, I can truthfully say I believe I have a line of goods that will give entire satisfaction to anyone buying at this sale. Over four hundred gold watches; $5,000 in diamonds alone; guns, pistols, music boxes, typewriters; also fixtures for sale. Everything must be sold, regardless of value. Sale starts Saturday evening, September 28, continuing until all is sold, so if you want good values, be sure and attend this sale. Thanking you for past favors, I remain,

Respectfully,
